Labor Day Occasion for Outing

This Western beauty spot is only one of thousands that will lure motorists over the prolonged week-end afforded by Labor Day, according to the local manager of the Western Auto Supply Company, in announcing the close of his firm's Pre-Labor Day Sale of necessities for touring comfort and safety. Tires, batteries, motor oils, seat covers and scores of other articles are featured in the sale which ends Saturday, September third.

Bolt Splinters Rod, Angler Escapes Injury

FORT ERIE, Ont. (U.P.)—Jack Richmond, sat fishing at a shipyard slip on Niagara River near here, and got a bite. A moment later, a bolt of lightning knocked Richmond's fishing pole out of his hands, shivering it to bits. He was not injured.

FAMED STARS IN NEW FILM

Movie audiences are due for three big surprises when they see their favorite stars in Paramount's new romantic fiesta, "Tropic Holiday," which opens tonight at the Torrance theatre. Bob Burns, the favorite son of Arkansas, quits the state he has made famous and becomes a Senatorial candidate from Oklahoma. Hilarious Martha Raye comes down to earth as the secretary to a screen author and the elusive sweetheart of Burns, and Dorothy Lamour trades her sarong for the gay native costumes of southern Mexico.

Ray Milland, heading the cast as the Hollywood writer who tries to "get away from it all" in the tropics, has a "straight" role, reminiscent of the one he played so successfully in "Easy Living." He comes to Mexico to forget the movies and stays with Miss Lamour to forget the world, forsaking even his Hollywood sweetheart, blonde and lovely Binnie Barnes.

The comedy highlight of "Tropic Holiday" is Martha Raye's bullfight which she bravely undertakes for love of Bob Burns, the bombastic would-be-Senator from Oklahoma. For this unusual act Martha trained under one of Mexico's foremost bullfighters, imported from his native country to teach the star all the tricks of his trade.

ON WORLD'S BRIGHTEST STREET

SHIRLEY IS N. Y. COP

Since the news has come out that Shirley Temple's chief ambition when she grows up is to become a police-woman, law-and-order organizations all over the country have hastened to grant that wish—and now, long before she reaches maturity.

Latest honor of this kind came when a registered letter from the New York City Detective Bureau was delivered to her on the "Little Miss Broadway" set at 20th Century-Fox. Inside was a formal notification that she had been made an honorary member of "New York's Finest," and a full-sized gold badge.

In addition to being Chief of her own unique police force—"with badges 'n everything," Shirley is also "Los Angeles Junior Policewoman Number One," and is an honorary member of the Honolulu Police force, and of similar organizations scattered over the United States.

"Little Miss Broadway," her latest starring film, opens Sunday at the Plaza theatre in Hawthorne. George Murphy, Jimmy Durante, Phyllis Brooks and Edna Mae Oliver are featured, and the picture includes six new dance-song hits by Bullock and Spina.

STAR IN MUSICAL LAUGH ROUND-UP

It's a rip-roarin' romance when "Dead-Eye" Dick Powell meets "Prairie Pip" Priscilla Lane in the musical comedy, "Cowboy from Brooklyn" which opens tonight at the Plaza theatre in Hawthorne.

"The lending policy of Bank of America" is to provide the soundest type of credit best suited to the need of every individual and of every established business no matter how large or small.

If any man or woman of good character and proved ability require money for any worthy purpose—for business or for personal uses, no matter how specialized the need, Bank of America has, or will endeavor to provide, the type of credit that will be most helpful.

W. G. W. Chairman of the Board of Directors

Bank of America has always made sound capital loans to large and small businesses to the maximum amount permitted by government banking regulations. Now Bank of America is pleased to be able to offer, through its 493 California-wide branches, a new, more liberalized lending service.

LOANS FOR SMALL BUSINESS

Small businesses may be generally divided into two classes—retailers and manufacturers. Bank of America has a special loan plan designed to meet the needs of both. The most common need of the small manufacturer is for working capital and capital for plant improvements. The retailer's problem is primarily one of ready cash to carry more receivables and a sufficient inventory. The manufacturer may avail himself of both the accounts receivable plan and the small capital loan plan outlined below. The retailer's principal problem may be solved by use of the small capital loan plan or a combination of this plan and FHA financing which, under Title I, permits modernization of property, the installation of new store fronts, fixtures, and similar improvements. Small capital loans for either retailers or manufacturers are available only to concerns which have been established for at least

LONG TERM LOANS for Commercial or Industrial enterprises

Bank of America has a convenient method of making amortized time loans in bond or note form to business and industry. This type of loan is particularly well adapted to the concern desiring to expand its operations as well as those desiring to refinance existing obligations.

one year. For loans over $1000 a concern must have been established for a longer period. Loans may be made with or without security or endorsement, depending upon the amount and maturity of the loan. Loans of this type, however, cannot be made for the purpose of starting new ventures.

TERM LOANS FOR SMALL BUSINESS

Amount of Loan Desired	Maximum Repayment Period	Minimum Annual Net Income Requirement*
$ 500	1 Year	$ 2,500
$ 500 - $2,000	2 Years	$ 5,000
$2,001 - $5,000	3 Years	$ 5,000
$5,001 - $10,000	5 Years	$10,000

*The term Minimum Annual Net Income Requirement means the net cash income of the business before depreciation and owner's withdrawals.

COMMERCIAL LOANS and lines of credit are available to any business with satisfactory credit. Bank of America's commercial loan department offers many exclusive features of service.

COMMODITY AND WAREHOUSE LOANS may be arranged through Bank of America on commodities and many types of inventory stored in public or field warehouses. This plan is especially attractive to concerns which must carry large stocks of raw materials.

ACCOUNTS RECEIVABLE FINANCING

Flexible working capital in any amount for manufacturers, wholesalers, jobbers

Bank of America's plan of financing accounts receivable is designed to meet the working capital needs of manufacturers, wholesalers, jobbers. Debtors are not notified and there is no interruption of regular routine. If you are not now discounting, you can free the cash you have invested in receivables and provide flexible working capital for all your requirements at a profit, and at the same time insure adequate capital when sales expand. Loans for capital purposes are also available to manufacturers, wholesalers, jobbers.

There is a Bank of America loan for every constructive need... Inquire at your neighborhood branch.

QUESTIONS

Last night we read in that charming book, "A City of Bells," that a man leant back restfully in his chair. The pronunciation of the word "leant" caused no end of a discussion. How do you pronounce it?

What is the difference between a gib and a jib?

Next Monday will be Labor Day. Who inaugurated Labor Day, and when?

TODAY'S PROVERB

"He who stumbles twice over the same stone deserves to break his shins."

Rather harsh viewpoint in that very old proverb, we must say!

ANSWERS

If you pronounce "leant" as "leant," you are very wrong, indeed! "Leant" sounds exactly like "lent" when it is properly pronounced.

A jib is a piece of metal used to hold parts of a machine in place, or to afford a bearing. A jib is a certain kind of a sail. It may also be the projecting arm of a crane. Or, again, jib may mean bail.

Labor Day was inaugurated by the Knights of Labor in 1882. Twelve years later, by vote of Congress, Labor Day became a legal holiday.

ADIOS

The following lines were given to us the other day. We think they are beautiful:

"Sleep, that comes like gentle rain
 To parched flowers on thirsty plain,
 Sleep, thou Heaven sent gain!
 Sleep, sweet nurse of those in pain,
 Forgetfulness of heart and brain
 Till morning comes again."

It pays to advertise in The Herald.

Around Hollywood Film Lots

HOLLYWOOD (U.P.)—One screen characterization can wreck an actor's career, declares Jack LaRue who has been working four years to win back the following he lost in a single picture.

LaRue says he learned his lesson with that one picture. "The Story of Temple Drake." Until he played in it, he thought it made no difference to the fans what character he portrayed so long as he did a good job of it. It does make a difference. That's why he turns down roles that do not quite give the villain a few good qualities.

In "The Valley of the Giants," LaRue is something of a bad man. He's a gambler and villain but he doesn't cheat and he protects the heroine. That's why LaRue took the role.

The slim, soft-spoken LaRue made an auspicious start in pictures as the priest in "Farewell to Arms." He seemed destined for stardom for his work in that picture. He was offered the role of Popeye in "The Story of Temple Drake" after George Raft refused the part. LaRue read the script, saw that it gave him a chance to do a great piece of acting and took the role.

When the picture was released, the critics raved about LaRue's work. But the fans didn't. Popeye was a despicable character without one saving grace. In hating the character, the fans also hated the man who brought him to the screen and almost ruined LaRue's career.

After that experience, LaRue carefully began rebuilding his place in pictures. Since then, he has turned down many parts

Trade Lecture and Movies at Park Next Tuesday

A free lecture on opportunities for students in Diesel and internal combustion engines, air conditioning, refrigeration, radio, television and electricity combined with several sound motion pictures is to be presented free of charge next Tuesday night, Sept. 6, in the city park by the National Schools of Los Angeles, according to C. H. Carter, publicity director.

The lecture will be given by Harrison O. Joseph. Screen features of the two-hour entertainment will include a comedy starring Singer Donald Novis, the sky fleet of the navy, modern transportation and an all-around sports picture. All residents of Torrance and vicinity are cordially invited to attend the affair which will start at the band shell at 8 o'clock.
